

Alaris Tempranillo 2013

89 Points

Alaris Tempranillo 2013 is aged for three months in used French and American oak casks and has a brilliant ruby red color. Lively aromas of fresh red berries, allspice and candied flowers. Gently sweet raspberry and cherry flavors show good energy and focus, with white pepper and vanilla nuances emerging with air. The berry note repeats on a lively finish that's framed by gentle, slow-mounting tannins. This appealing, fruit-driven wine drinks nicely right now.
