

Xabec 2015

90 Points

Xabec 2015 is aged in new French, American, and Hungarian oak casks for 11 months. Xabec has a deep ruby color with aromas of black red and blue fruit preserves that are complicated by notes of licorice, cracked pepper, and minerality. Blueberry and cassis flavors deepen on the back half of the palate while picking up a hint of sweet mocha. The slow building tannins frame a long, chewy finish that leaves notes of blue fruit behind.

Xabec 2015

90 Points

Xabec 2015 is aged in new French, American, and Hungarian oak casks for 11 months. Xabec has a deep ruby color with aromas of black red and blue fruit preserves that are complicated by notes of licorice, cracked pepper, and minerality. Blueberry and cassis flavors deepen on the back half of the palate while picking up a hint of sweet mocha. The slow building tannins frame a long, chewy finish that leaves notes of blue fruit behind.

Xabec 2015

90 Points

Xabec 2015 is aged in new French, American, and Hungarian oak casks for 11 months. Xabec has a deep ruby color with aromas of black red and blue fruit preserves that are complicated by notes of licorice, cracked pepper, and minerality. Blueberry and cassis flavors deepen on the back half of the palate while picking up a hint of sweet mocha. The slow building tannins frame a long, chewy finish that leaves notes of blue fruit behind.

Xabec 2015

90 Points

Xabec 2015 is aged in new French, American, and Hungarian oak casks for 11 months. Xabec has a deep ruby color with aromas of black red and blue fruit preserves that are complicated by notes of licorice, cracked pepper, and minerality. Blueberry and cassis flavors deepen on the back half of the palate while picking up a hint of sweet mocha. The slow building tannins frame a long, chewy finish that leaves notes of blue fruit behind.

Xabec 2015

90 Points

Xabec 2015 is aged in new French, American, and Hungarian oak casks for 11 months. Xabec has a deep ruby color with aromas of black red and blue fruit preserves that are complicated by notes of licorice, cracked pepper, and minerality. Blueberry and cassis flavors deepen on the back half of the palate while picking up a hint of sweet mocha. The slow building tannins frame a long, chewy finish that leaves notes of blue fruit behind.

Xabec 2015

90 Points

Xabec 2015 is aged in new French, American, and Hungarian oak casks for 11 months. Xabec has a deep ruby color with aromas of black red and blue fruit preserves that are complicated by notes of licorice, cracked pepper, and minerality. Blueberry and cassis flavors deepen on the back half of the palate while picking up a hint of sweet mocha. The slow building tannins frame a long, chewy finish that leaves notes of blue fruit behind.